

Thank you,

Petra Glover, our 2021 Richmond Christmas Mother

Thanks to Petra's hard work, generous heart and kind spirit, the Richmond Christmas Mother Fund raised more than $323,500 this season. All dollars raised will go to help those in need in Richmond and the surrounding communities.

Jefferson Hotel
Petra at the Jefferson Hotel.

Westminster Canterbury Mitten Tree

Over 300 hats, mittens, scarves and lap robes were distributed to the Salvation Army Distribution Center on December 6. These knitted or crocheted items were made by residents of Westminster Canterbury Richmond and friends of the Richmond Christmas Mother. Suze Henshaw was the Westminster Canterbury Richmond Mother for the last two years.

Puritan Cleaners Coat Drive

Petra Glover joins members of the Chores for Change Program in the Hallsley Neighborhood of Midlothian with bags of winter coats, which benefits the Salvation Army.

McGuireWoods

Petra stands with McGuireWoods managing partners Tracy Walker (left) and Mike Herring (right). The law firm has supported the fund for over 20 years.

Maymont

Petra presented a $5000 donation to the Maymont Foundation. From left are Gary Gore, president of the foundation; Parke Richeson, executive director of Maymont; and Paul Farrell, president and publisher of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Five Forks Community Center coat drive.

Feed More

Petra presented a $60,000 check on November 15, to CEO Doug Pick at Feed More's Richmond office as Paul Farrell, Richmond Times-Dispatch publisher and president, and Timothy McDermott, Chief Development Officer for Feed More looked on.

Holiday Luncheon

Richmond Christmas Mothers attend a holiday luncheon hosted by Petra. From left to right seated: Mary Ballou Williams, Peggy Talley Lee, Kitty Claiborne, Nan McVey; 2nd row: Nancy Gottwald, Petra Glover, Ann Parker Gottwald; 3rd Row: Peggy Brockenbrough, Susan Ewing, Bobbie Ukrop, Jane Ukrop, April Niamtu, Ruth Hill, Katherine Wintsch.

Feed More Mobile Pantry

Feed More's Mobile Pantry Program brings food directly to food deserts in Richmond and Central Virginia that are not adequately served by either a local grocery store or Feed More's food pantry partners. Petra works the Mobile Pantry at the Richmond Sheriff's Office.

Cotillion

Left: Petra with sixth-grader Rose Fratkin (clockwise from left), 10th-grader Kevin Henry and sixth-grader East Botha.

Right: Petra with her husband, Gary Glover.

Salvation Army

Petra Glover cutting the ribbon to open the 2021 Salvation Army Distribution Center.

Recipients of 2021 Richmond Christmas Mother Grants

In addition to major contributions to Feed More and The Salvation Army, The Richmond Christmas Mother fund distributed $86,100 in grants to the following organizations in 2021:

- ACTS – Area Congregations Together in Service
- Assisting Families of Inmates
- Big Brothers Big Sisters Services, Inc.
- Black History Museum & Cultural Center of Virginia
- Boys & Girls Clubs of Metro Richmond
- Chesterfield-Colonial Heights Christmas Mother, Inc.
- ChildSavers
- Commonwealth Catholic Charities
- Communities In Schools of Chesterfield
- Connor's Heroes Foundation
- CrossOver Healthcare Ministry

- Down's Syndrome Association of Greater Richmond
- Elk Hill
- FeedTheStreetsRVA
- FRIENDS Association for Children
- Goochland Co. Christmas Mother Association
- Greater Richmond SCAN (Stop Child Abuse Now) Inc.
- Henrico Christmas Mother
- HomeAgain
- HumanKind
- Jewish Family Services
- Northside Outreach Center
- OAR of Richmond, Inc.

- Peter Paul Development Center
- Richmond Hill
- Sacred Heart Center
- Safe Harbor
- Saint Francis Home
- Senior Connections, CAAA
- The Doorways
- The Global Graduate Fellows Program (GradPrep)
- UMFS
- Virginia Home for Boys and Girls
- Virginia Supportive Housing
- Waymakers Foundation
- YWCA of Richmond

