Gospel Roots Reach Deep in Western Hanover

The Christian Four gospel group

The Christian Four gospel group, formed in western Hanover, in the Glen Allen area, in 1947, provided comfort, inspiration, and entertainment for gospel fans near and far. Original members included James Davis, Sr; Harold Gordon, Sr; John (Ell) Gordon, Sr; William (Bill) Gordon; and Henry White. Thomas Goode, Earl Harris, and Herbert White also sang in the group at various times. Most of the men were members of Abner Baptist Church in Hanover. The Christian Four performed weekly on WANT, a Richmond-based radio station, for several years. It also performed throughout Virginia and up and down the East Coast, from North Carolina to New Jersey, taking the stage with renowned gospel groups, including the Family Spirituals, the Wright Family Singers, and Maggie Ingram and the Ingramettes. While all but one of its members is now deceased, the acclaimed group's gospel music legacy lives on through its influence on the community and family and friends.

Joni Woolridge Charalambous

Joni Woolridge Charalambous left us peacefully early Sunday morning December 25, 2022. Joni was born to John C. Woolridge Sr. and Alice T. Woolridge on November 26, 1967, in Evanston, Illinois. A loving and resilient child who didn't think twice about speaking up in protest for what she believed in. She graduated from Armstrong-Kennedy High School in 1985 in Richmond, Virginia and moved on to receive her Bachelors in Communications from Old Dominion University. The adventure had only just begun. From traveling the world to counseling at schools and prisons, volunteering at churches and the Ronald McDonald House. Her heart always expanded to those outside of herself. She could make a group of people laugh within a matter of seconds. She sang and danced her way through the storm.

Joni was preceded in death by her father, John C. Woolridge, Sr. and leaves these memories to be cherished by her children, Christian, Stelios and Alexandra Charalambous. Her mother Alice T. Woolridge, brother John C. Woolridge, Jr., sister Briana Woolridge, uncle Joseph A. Woolridge, three aunts, Barbara Flippens, Hazel B. Monroe (Rudolph), Annie Williams (James) and a host of loving relatives and friends who will miss her greatly.

— PSALMS 51:1-2 —

*“Have mercy upon me, oh God, according to thine loving kindness; according to thine multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.
Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity,
and cleanse me from my sins.”*

Thank you Father God for allowing Joni to be with us for 55 years.
