

HONEST.AUTHENTIC. DEPENDABLE.PRESENT

I'm a career public servant who has dedicated his life to serving this country and our county. As the first African American Command Sergeant Major of the Army National Guard, and the first African American elected to the Prince William County Board of Supervisors, I know how to break down barriers. I'm running for re-election because I want to continue to tear down barriers to prosperity and progress for our community, and to be a voice on our Board that isn't afraid to ask the hard questions that we can't afford to hide from.
